

Atlantis' Response to the COVID-19 Outbreak

Atlantis and its staff are committed to maintaining our services during the current situation. With our own Business Continuity Plan (BCP) and Disaster Recovery Testing, we work closely with our clients and other key stakeholders to ensure that robust procedures are in place in order to maintain critical business operations should a pandemic situation occur.

We have also invested in technology infrastructure to ensure that our employees can work remotely when needed. Tele-working and remote access services allow secure connection to the corporate network.

We are all in this together, and the safety and security of our clients, employees and other stakeholders are always our priority. We continue to monitor the situation closely and implement precautionary measures with reference to any information and guidance circulated by the local health authority (varies geographically) and the World Health Organization (WHO). We also consider the Guidance issued by the local financial regulator (varies geographically) amid the spread of COVID-19 infections.

We fully support the national lock downs in certain countries and regions and make special arrangements such as the maintenance of social distancing and suspension of non-essence activities.

We highly appreciate your confidence and flexibility during this challenging time. If you have any questions or we can be of assistance, please do not hesitate to contact us.
